Throughout the year the NFT plays host from time to time to events that showcase the work of film schools across the UK, providing both a national forum and exhibition platform for film, television and animation students. NAHEMI's 'Eat Our Shorts!' Film Festival is one of the largest and longest running of these, and this year we are providing an opportunity for the public to see some of the inventive, provocative work on show. This fifth edition of 'Eat Our Shorts!' profiles the work of one of the great international film schools, The Polish National Film School in Lodz, presenting a blend of work from past alumni including Kieslowski, Polanski, Wajda and Zanussi alongside work from current students.

Presented in association with NAHEMI, PWSFTV and The Polish Film Institute. Programme curated by Yossi Bal <http://www.polishculture.org.uk/>
